The Per Caplin Excitement in the West-Kad-Meeting at the Corner of Eighth and Preeman-streets. In pursuance of a call published in some of the city papers, about two hundred persons assembled at the corner of Eighth and Freeman-streets, last night, to consider the subject of the abolition of the per capita tax on passengers upon the Street Railroads. From the first, it was apparent that those present were about equally divided in opinion upon the subject, both parties hesitated to proceed to an organization, and groups of men in earnest conversation consumed at least half an hour, before anything was done. At length Mr. Geo. Seitzer was appointed chairman and Mr. Job Pugh being called upon, stated the object of the meeting, as he understood it. Messrs. W. C. Perkins, J. H. Rowlins and Wm. B. Chenoweh were appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the assembly. And during their absence, Mr. George George addressed those present in opposition to the repeal of the per capita tax in particular, and to Street Railroads in general.
